Personnel Overview

Offense

(409.7 Yds/G, 255.7 Rushing, 154.0 Passing)

Clemson is noted nationally for its defense, but few realize this was the second best offense in Tiger history. The 410-yards per game ranked 25th in the country and only the 1978 Clemson team that featured six starters who eventually went on to start in the NFL had a better figure (428 yds/game).

In fact, the offense carried the defense over the last three games of the season. Ken Hatfield's offense averaged 38 points per contest the last three games of the season and scored at least 20 points in the last seven games. The Clemson defense gave up 17.3 points a game over the last three games, however some of those points were scored against reserves when Clemson had a large lead.

While Clemson ranked eighth in the nation in rushing this year and has had six straight years of at least 235 yards per game on the ground, it has been the Tiger passing game that has been the difference in 1991. Clemson's 154 yards a game through the air rank as the best by a Clemson team since 1984 and the second best since 1975.

DeChane Cameron continued to improve as the starting quarterback as the season progressed. The senior, who graduated on December 19 with a degree in accounting, has completed 111-193 passes for 1478 yards and five scores. He had the second best passing efficiency rating in the ACC behind Virginia's Matt Blundin, and led all Atlantic Coast Conference quarterbacks in rushing with 392 yards.

He was at his best at South Carolina in the season's 10th game when he connected on 12-14 passes for 206 yards, a single game Clemson record for completion percentage. He also ran for 116 yards in the contest, giving him 322 yards in total offense, the third best performance in Clemson history.

Cameron has two outstanding starting wide receivers in Terry Smith and Larry Ryans. Smith was a first-team All-ACC choice who caught 45 passes for 758 yards and six touchdowns. The reception and yardage total were the highest for a Clemson receiver in 10 seasons, and established new marks for a Clemson sophomore. Ryans is a two-time track All-American (hurdles) at Clemson who had 20-273 in receptions and tallied 668 all-purpose running yards, fourth best on the Clemson team.

Clemson's leading rusher is tailback Rodney Blunt. The sophomore gained 706 yards on 160 attempts for the season, but 547 of those yards came in the last six games, including a career high 163 yards against Duke in the regular season finale. Blunt got his chance when Ronald Williams went down with a torn knee ligament during warmups prior to the October 26 N.C. State game. Up to that point, Williams had gained 581 yards in five games and was the ACC's top rusher. Williams had surgery in December and will not play in the Citrus Bowl.

At fullback, Rudy Harris moved to the forefront at midseason and ranks third on the club in rushing with 441 yards in 100 attempts. Clemson's top touchdown scorer (nine) had 126 yards against Duke in the Coca Cola Bowl in Tokyo, a career high performance.

Clemson has a veteran offensive line that features three graduate students, all of whom won some type of postseason award this year. Jeb Flesch was the most decorated offensive player at Clemson this year, as he was a first-team All-American according to four services, including Associated Press. He was a major reason Clemson rushed for 28 touchdowns this year and ranked eighth in the country in rushing. The red-shirt senior from Morrow, GA who received his degree on December 19, had 72 knockdown blocks to lead the Tigers this year and has 262 for his career, just 11 away from the Clemson career record. He has started 44 straight contests for the Tigers heading into the bowl game.

Starting center Mike Brown is another post-graduate who was a first-team All-ACC selection this year as he graded in the eighties in four contests. Offensive tackle Bruce Bratton was a second-team All-ACC choice on the field and a first-team CFA Academic All-American off the field. Bratton is a graduate student who earned his degree in engineering last year.

Stacy Seegars is a 300-pound guard who improved as the season went along and he reached his zenith at South Carolina when he graded 84 percent. Kelvin Hankins joins Bratton as a starting tackle. He had his best season by far with 45 knockdown blocks, most by a Clemson tackle this year. Ty Gibson is the starting tight end who had 12 receptions for 134 yards, fourth on the team. He had 12 knockdown blocks against Virginia to tie for the team best this year.

Defense

(263.2 Yds/Game, 53.4 rushing, 209.8 passing)

The Tiger defensive unit features three players who were chosen first-team All-American by at least one service this year. Clemson was especially tough against the run, allowing just 53.4 yards per game, the second best rushing defense by any college football team in the last 21 seasons. Nine of Clemson's 11 opponents failed to reach the 100-yard mark in terms of rushing, in fact opponents averaged just 30.5 yards per game over the last six contests.

Rob Bodine was the leader of the interior line that ranked as one of the best in the nation. A first-team All-American by the Football Writers and a second-team choice by AP, Bodine led the nation in tackles for loss with 27. He also picked up a team best 7.5 sacks and had 99 total tackles, second on the team. Bodine, originally a walk-on fullback, has 48 career tackles for loss, only the Perry Brothers (Michael Dean and William) have more.

Chester McGlockton and Brentson Buckner

Clemson turned its season in the right direction in the last four minutes of the Virginia game. Rudy Harris (40) scored a key touchdown in the comeback.

are a pair of +310-pound tackles who flank the 245-pound Bodine. McGlockton was second on the team in tackles for loss with 15, quite an accomplishment considering he saw limited duty in the first three games because of a preseason knee injury.

He was a first-team All-ACC selection and ranked fifth on the team in tackles with 56. The junior from Whiteville, NC, is already tied for third in Clemson history in sacks, and he still has another year of eligibility. Buckner had 55 stops in his fine sophomore season and tallied 10 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks.

The Tiger outside linebackers are led by first-team All-American Levon Kirkland. Mr. Outside had 62 stops this year to rank third on the club and also collected 12 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks. He ranks in a tie for third in Clemson history with McGlockton on the all-time sack chart, only the Perry Brothers have more in Tiger history. Kirkland, a second-team All-American in 1990, was a first-team choice by four services this year.

Ashley Sheppard and Wayne Simmons are the co-starters at the other outside linebacker position. Sheppard had the higher tackle total, but Simmons had the higher sack and tackle for loss figures. Sheppard picked up 48 tackles and five tackles for loss in his six starts, while Simmons had 43 tackles, but ranked second on the team in sacks with six. Simmons will get the start in the Citrus Bowl.

The inside linebackers are paced by first-team All-American Ed McDaniel. The 225-pounder from Batesburg, SC, led Clemson in tackles with 106, the third time in his four years that he has led a top 15 (NCAA ranking) Clemson defense in tackles. Mr. Inside is ranked fourth in Clemson history in total tackles with 381, but he needs just two to move into third place.

Kenzil Jackson and Chuck O'Brien have shared the other inside linebacker position the second half of the season. Jackson ranks fourth on Clemson's fourth ranked (total) defense with 58 stops, while O'Brien, a red-shirt senior, has 37 tackles. O'Brien will become the first player in NCAA history to play in three Citrus Bowls.

The secondary had just one returning starter from last year's 10-2 team that led the nation in total defense. Robert O'Neal, a first-team All-ACC choice and a 1992 All-America candidate, is the best defensive back. The free safety had 51 tackles and 11 passes broken up. The PBU total is second best in the ACC this year. He also ranks fifth in Clemson history in interceptions.

Darnell Stephens and Eric Geter are the starters at the cornerback positions. Stephens led the league in punt returns this year and was a second-team freshman All-American. Geter started all 11 games this year and tallied 37 tackles and five PBUs. Tyron Mouzon led the team in interceptions from his strong safety slot with three and had 48 tackles and eight pass deflections.

Special Forces

Two freshmen ranked among the top 10 nationally in their respective expertise led the special teams, or what Coach Hatfield refers to as the "special forces". Placekicker Nelson Welch ranked in a tie for fourth in the nation in field goals per game and paced the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was an All-ACC selection, honorable mention UPI All-American and a first-team Freshman All-

American by Football News. He connected on 17-26 field goals this year and scored 81 points, most ever by a Clemson freshman.

Darnell Stephens paced the return area with a 14.1 punt return average, best in the ACC and eighth best in the nation. That included an 89-yarder against Maryland that was chosen as the CNN Play of the Day. Larry Ryans leads the kickoff return group with a 23.5 average on 11 attempts.

Chuck Lynch, a graduate student, is the Clemson punter. He tallied 17 punts inside the 20 this year, most by a Clemson punter over the last five years, and he was a prime reason Clemson allowed just 4.8 yards per punt return this year, best in the ACC. Lynch averaged 36.2 yards a punt this year, but only 18 of his 50 punts were returned.

Coach Hatfield Comments

"I told our players following the Maryland game that this will be the last time the Atlantic Coast Conference Champion will be representing the conference in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Clemson was the first school to represent the ACC in this bowl agreement and now we are the final ACC school to represent the conference in the final year of the bowl agreement.

"I told our team that we will be playing a very difficult and tough California team. They are a team that has defeated Southern California and UCLA two years in a row. California is a squad that has had the best winning record in the last 41 years at that school and they are a team that head coach Bruce Snyder has developed into a very solid squad. They won a bowl game last year and they are coming off a big loss to arch-rival Stanford, so they will be determined to play extremely well against us.

"They have great balance in both running and throwing the ball, so they will be very difficult to prepare for. It is going to be a great ball game.

"At one time it looked like they could be even ranked as high as number-four if they had not lost to Stanford. I am looking for a good ball game, but I am looking for us to prepare hard and be ready to play our best. We have improved tremendously since the second half of the Virginia game, and that is why we are where we are right now. I am proud of our team being an undefeated conference champion going down to the Citrus Bowl.

"California has relied more on the straight running game this season, and I would too if I had Russell White. They threw the ball for 300 or so yards against Stanford, so when they have had to throw it, they have accomplished that without any problems. They are a multi-talented, skilled team. Nobody does exactly the things they do. They have great strength and have been able to run the ball against almost everybody.

"I knew about Bruce Snyder when he was at Utah State and I knew what he had done there and respected him tremendously. Then we coached together at the East-West Shrine game three or four years ago. That was the first time that we were together for a week. What he has accomplished at Cal, I think is phenomenal. He has brought a cohesiveness and unity, a winning attitude in both the players and administration. When you can beat Southern Cal, and UCLA two years in a row, you have done something, period.

"I have not had a chance to see much film on Russell White yet, but from what little I have seen and from everything I have heard, he is a tremendous back. When you can gain 1000 yards, playing the Washington, UCLA and Southern Cal defenses, especially when he has done it two years in a row, that says something in itself. He is a big strong back that really runs hard and runs through tackles."

Clemson's hard-hitting defense led the nation in defending the run, allowing just 53.4 yards per game. It was the second best rushing defense in college football since 1970. Here Chuck O'Brien lays a hit on an N.C. State back.

Clemson Notes

Bodine Ties Perry's Record, Led Nation

Clemson middle guard Rob Bodine tied the Clemson single season mark for tackles for loss when he recorded four stops behind the line against Duke in the regular season finale. He has 27 heading into the California game, the same total William Perry had in 1984, his senior year. Perry only played in 11 games that year, the same number Bodine has played in this season.

Bodine, who was a first-team All-American according to the Football Writers Association, led the nation in tackles for loss per game. He had one more than Ricardo McDonald of Pittsburgh accumulated. It is interesting to note that only nine players in the nation had 20 tackles for loss this year and three played in the ACC. Here is a list of Clemson's single season bests in terms of tackles for loss:

Tigers Win 13th ACC Title

Clemson clinched its 13th ACC championship with a 40-7 victory over Maryland on November 16. The Tigers have now won 12 outright titles and tied for another (1965 with N.C. State) over the years, more than than any other school. Maryland is second with eight ACC titles, while Duke is third with seven.

Clemson had not won the ACC championship since 1988. That season, Clemson had a 6-1 record in the league and clinched the championship with a 49-25 win at Maryland. In fact, Clemson has now clinched the ACC title in a game against Maryland each of the last four times it has won the title. In 1987 Clemson clinched the ACC title with a 45-16 win over Maryland, and in 1986 Clemson clinched in a 17-17 tie with Maryland in Baltimore.

Tiger Seniors Still Have Shot at ACC, Clemson Record

There are 22 Tigers who will be playing California in their final game. This group has a 39-7-1 record so far and has a chance to tie the Clemson record for wins by a senior class if it defeats California in the Citrus Bowl. The record for a senior class is 40 by the 1990 seniors who posted four straight 10-2 seasons. This year's seniors already rank second.

The 1991 seniors include 11 starters, five on offense, five on defense and one punter. The 1991 seniors include: Rob Bodine (MG, Velva, ND); Doug Bolin (TB, Blacksburg, SC); Bruce Bratton (OT, Gaffney, SC); Mike Brown (C, Pell City, AL); DeChane Cameron (QB, LaGrange, GA); David Davis (MG, Eastover, SC); Jeb Flesch (OG, Morrow, GA); John Clamp (P, Anderson, SC); David Goudelock (DB, Winnsboro, SC);

Bodine led the nation in tackles for loss with 27 and he was a major reason the Tigers led the nation in rushing defense.

Gerald Green (DB, Lithonia, GA); Kelvin Hankins (OT, Camden, NJ); and Dean Harmon (C, PK, Midland, MI).

Also, David Joye (DB, Graham, NC); Tony Kennedy (FB, Elizabeth, NJ); Levon Kirkland (OLB, Lamar, SC); Chuck Lynch (P, Wyndmoor, PA); Tony Mauney (CB, Shelby, NC); Ed McDaniel (LB, Batesburg, SC); Jimmy McLees (QB, Greenville, SC); Tyron Mouzon (SS, Clearwater, FL); Chuck O'Brien (LB, Clarksburg, MD); Curtis Whitley (C, Smithfield, NC)

Three senior starters Bratton, Brown, and Lynch, had their degrees before the season began, while DeChane Cameron and Jeb Flesch received it December 19th.

That 1990 group also has the ACC record for wins in a four-year period. Here is a list of the winningest classes in ACC history. Clemson has six of the top nine classes in the history of the league.

Winningest ACC Classes

Four Tigers Receive All-America Mention

Four Clemson football players, Jeb Flesch (OG, Gr, Morrow, GA), Levon Kirkland (OLB, Sr., Lamar, SC), Ed McDaniel (ILB, Sr., Batesburg, SC) and Rob Bodine (MG, Sr., Velva, ND) received first-team All-America honors in 1991.

It is interesting to note that all four players were never chosen among the top 200 players in the country by any High School All-America service during their prep days. In fact, only McDaniel made an all-state team in high school, and he was not a consensus selection.

Flesch and Kirkland each made four first-team All-America squads for 1991 to lead the way, while Bodine was a first-team selection by Football Writers and McDaniel was first-team by College & Pro Football Weekly. Kirkland was a second-team choice by two services, while Bodine was named second-team by three different services. McDaniel had one third-team selection and two honorable mentions to go with his first-team choice.

Flesch led the Tigers in knockdown blocks this year with 72 and he needs 11 against California to become Clemson's all-time leader. Bodine had a Clemson record tying 27 tackles for loss this season and was second on the Tiger team in tackles with 99. He was a key reason Clemson Cameron (#10) needs just 130 yards of total offense to become the third Tiger in history to record a 2,000-yard season, while Harris (#40) paces the team in touchdowns with nine. He had a career high 126 yards and two TDs vs Duke in the final regular season game. Both are reasons Clemson ranks eighth in the nation in rushing.

allowed just 53.4 yards per game on the ground this year, best in the nation and second best by any Division I team in the last 20 years. Only the Perry Brothers (Williams and Michael Dean) have more career tackles for loss at Clemson than Bodine.

Kirkland had 62 stops to rank third on the team this past regular season. He also had 12 tackles for loss and now has 19 sacks for his career, tied for third in Clemson history. McDaniel led Clemson in tackles with 106, the third time in his four years that he paced Clemson in tackles. He has 381 tackles in his career heading into the Citrus Bowl game with California, fourth best in Clemson history.

Clemson Rushing Defense 2nd Best in Last 20 Years

Clemson won the national total defense championship in 1990, allowing just 217 yards per game. In 1991, Clemson won the national rushing defense championship allowing just 53.4 yards per game. That is the best rushing defense by any team since 1982 and the second best since 1970. In 1982 Virginia Tech led the country by allowing just 49.5 yards a game. Prior to that you have to go back to the 1970 LSU team led by Rock Perdoni that allowed just 52.2 yards per game to find a rushing defense better than Clemson's this year.

A look to the ACC record book tells us that this is also the best rushing defense in league history. Clemson's 1990 team held the previous record with a 71.7 average. Clemson also broke its own ACC record in terms of rushing defense per attempt. This year's team allowed just 1.63 yards (58.68 inches, or an average gimme putt for a weekend golfer) per rush, breaking the previous ACC record of 2.27 yards per attempt set by the 1987 team.

Clemson allowed just five rushing touchdowns in 1991 and that was just one more than the record of four allowed by the Clemson team of 1981. Maryland's 1981 team and N.C. State's 1967 club also allowed just four rushing touchdowns over the course of a season.

Offense Second Best in Clemson History

Heading into the bowl game Clemson is averaging 409.7 yards per game in terms of total offense. If the season ended today that would be the second best total offense average in Clemson history, even better than Clemson's 1981 National Championship team. Only the 1978 team led by Steve Fuller and Jerry Butler and four other starters who went on to start in the NFL, is better. The Tigers have averaged 445.7 yards a game over the last seven games. Clemson is 6-0-1 in those seven contests.

Clemson is eighth in the nation in rushing yards per game with an average of 255.7 yards per game, but it is a stepped up passing attack that has made the difference in terms of total offense as compared with previously successful Clemson teams. Clemson has averaged 154 yards a game in the air, hit on 56 percent of its passes and thrown just eight interceptions all season.

Clemson Ranked 13th by AP

Clemson is ranked 13th in the nation by AP in the latest poll, while the Tigers are 12th in the coaches poll published by USA Today. This is the 81st time in the last 82 polls (dating back to the last poll of 1986) that Clemson has been in the top 25 of the AP poll. It is the 77th time in the last 82 polls that Clemson has been in the top 20 and it is the 60th time over the last 82 polls that Clemson has been in the top 15. Clemson has finished in the final AP top 20 every year since 1986. Clemson was ninth in the final poll last year.

Hatfield in Exclusive Company

Clemson coach Ken Hatfield has shown over the years that he can lead a program to success in a short period of time. Even though he has been coaching only since 1979, Hatfield has already taken three different schools to final top 20 seasons. The second-year Clemson coach is one of just six coaches in NCAA history to take three different programs to a top 20 AP final ranking. He has led Air Force, Arkansas and Clemson to top 15 finishes. Lou Holtz and Bill Mallory, now at Indiana, are the other active coaches who have also taken three different schools to top 20 finishes.

Battle of Top 20 Teams

When Clemson meets California on New Year's Day it will be a battle of top 20 teams. Clemson enters the game ranked 13th in AP, while California is 14th by the Associated Press. This will be the third meeting of top 20 teams for the Tigers this year. Clemson is 2-0 in those previous games. The Tigers downed a number-19 Georgia Tech team in Death Valley, then stopped a number-12 and a 6-0 N.C. State team a month later.

Clemson has fared well against Top 20 teams in recent years. Since the current crop of Tiger red-shirt seniors came to Clemson (1987) the Tigers are 9-4 against Top 20 teams. Clemson has actually won seven of its last nine against top 20 teams with the only losses coming at Virginia and at Georgia Tech in Coach Hatfield's first year.

Clemson With 5 Straight Bowl Wins

Clemson has won five bowl games over the last five years. Clemson and Florida State are the only teams in the nation with a bowl victory in each of the last five years. In fact, Florida State has won a bowl game in six straight seasons. UCLA has the longest active bowl winning streak going at seven. The Bruins won a bowl every year between 1982 and 1988, but Terry Donahue's team did not go to a bowl game in 1989 or 1990.

Clemson has defeated Stanford (27-21, 1986 Gator), Penn State (35-10, 1987 season, Citrus), Oklahoma (13-6, 1988 season, Citrus), West Virginia (27-7, 1989 Gator) and Illinois (30-0, 1990 season, Hall of Fame).

Eight times in the history of college football a team has won a bowl game in at least five consecutive seasons. With its current streak, Clemson is one of those eight programs. On seven other occasions a school has won at least five straight bowl games, but there have been seasons in the middle of the streak in which that school did not participate in a bowl. Southern Cal is the only school to have two streaks of at least five straight bowl wins.

McDaniel Now over 375 Tackles

Mr. Inside was at his best in Clemson's win over Duke. Ed McDaniel picked up 14 tackles in the Tiger win in Tokyo on November 30. That was just one tackle off his career high of 15 set at North Carolina this year. The red-shirt senior from Batesburg, SC, who was a semifinalist for the Butkus Award, now has 106 tackles this season to rank first on the Clemson team. He needs just two tackles to move ahead of Randy Scott into third place on Clemson's all-time list. He now has 381 for his career.

Cameron on the Run

Clemson quarterback DeChane Cameron gained 117 yards rushing in just 18 attempts and scored two touchdowns in the 21-6 victory over North Carolina. That was the highest rushing game by a Clemson quarterback in 15 years. In fact, it was the second best rushing game by a Clemson quarterback in history. Only Mike O'Cain' 140-yard game against N.C. State in 1976 is better. Cameron came close to that against South Carolina with 116 yards rushing in 20 attempts. Cameron now has 392 yards rushing this year, most by an ACC quarterback this season.

Cameron has been outstanding as a passer also. He has completed at least 50 percent of his passes in nine of the 11 games this year and 13 of his last 16 over two seasons.

Heading into the California game here are Cameron's ranking in career categories:

*6th in completions with 242, needs 7 to pass Homer Jordan for 5th place

*6th in attempts with 437, needs 13 to pass Mike Eppley for 5th place

*3rd in completion percentage with 54.6, Mike Eppley is 2nd with 56.1

*8th in passing efficiency with 119, Steve Fuller is 7th at 123

Cameron Winningest Starting QB

DeChane Cameron is now 19-3-1 as a starting quarterback in his career, that is a winning percent of 84.8 percent. He is now ranked number-one in Clemson history in terms of winning percentage among starting quarterbacks (based on minimum of 15 career starts). Cameron took the Tigers to a 10-2 mark last year and is 9-1-1 so far this year. He has started each of the last 23 Clemson football games.

Tigers, Hatfield Have Goal of 10-Win Season
Clemson has a 9-1-1 mark heading into its last game. Thus, Clemson still has a shot at a 10-win season and that would be its fifth straight 10-victory season.

Hatfield has had five 10-win seasons in his career (12th on the all-time list) and he has done it at three different schools. The current Clemson coach is the only active coach to have taken three different schools to 10-win seasons. In fact, he is one of only two coaches in the history of the game to take three schools to at least one 10-win season. Dan Devine is the other.

Hatfield is also trying to become just the fifth coach in the history of the game to win 10 games in each of his first two seasons with a program. Bill Battle (Tennessee), Dennis Erickson (Miami), and Barry Switzer (Oklahoma) are the only three coaches in the history of the game to take a school to three 10-win seasons in their first three years with a school. Dick Crum, formerly of North Carolina, took Miami (OH) to 10-win seasons in each of his first two seasons.

Hatfield has also clinched his 10th straight bowl season. He took Air Force to a bowl his last two years there, then guided Arkansas to six straight. He guided Clemson to the Hall of Fame Bowl last year. Hatfield joins Florida State's Bobby Bowden, Nebraska's Tom Osborne and BYU's Lavell Edwards as the only active coaches who have taken teams to a bowl game at least 10 straight seasons.

Big Day for Purple

Clemson warmed up in Orange jerseys, but appeared at the top of the hill in new northwest purple jerseys prior to the N.C. State game on October 26. This marked the first time since the 1939 season that Clemson had worn purple jerseys. Jess Neely's teams wore purple throughout his era (1931-39) as Clemson's head coach. Professors in the university's textile school convinced Neely that the purple was not as color fast. The purple jerseys tended to fade quickly and just did not look good after repeated exposure to the sun and trips through the washing machines.

Many people across the country have called wondering why Clemson wore purple. Well, purple is one of the two official school colors of Clemson University. You don't see it in many items, but Northwest Purple and Burnt Orange are the official school colors.

Clemson did wear blue uniform jerseys for the 1958 Sugar Bowl against LSU, and for the 1962 South Carolina game. Those were known as the "Sugar Blues".

October 26 was a big day for purple in another part of the country. Northwestern wore all purple uniforms for the first time since 1971 in its upset of Illinois. That was Northwestern's first victory over a top 20 team in 25 years.

Clemson wore orange pants for three games this year, at North Carolina, against Maryland at home and vs. Duke in Tokyo. The Tigers were a perfect 3-0 in those games and are now 21-3 over the years when wearing orange pants. The only losses were to South Carolina in 1984 (22-21), to Florida State in 1988 (24-21) and 20-7 at Virginia in 1990.

Five of Clemson's Best

Five of the top 12 Clemson defensive players in Tiger annals in terms of tackles for loss are members of the 1991 team. And, there is the California game to be played.

Senior middle guard Rob Bodine and outside linebacker Levon Kirkland are both in the top five in Clemson history. Bodine, who has 27 stops behind the line this year, is now third with 48 for his career, while Kirkland is fifth with 40. Chester McGlockton has moved all the way to sixth with 36, including two against Duke in the regular season finale.

Flesch Had All-America Season

Senior offensive guard Jeb Flesch had another outstanding game in Clemson's victory against Duke. The native of Morrow, GA was making his 44th straight start for the Tigers dating back to the fourth game of his freshman season. He should finish his career with 45 career starts, which would be second on the all-time list for offensive linemen. He was named a first-team All-American by four services, including AP, UPI and the Walter Camp Foundation.

Flesch helped Clemson gain 503 yards in total offense against South Carolina, 272 rushing and 231 passing. He had eight knockdown blocks and an 81 percent grade. Against North Carolina he had an 84 percent grade on 59 snaps and collected nine knockdowns. Flesch had important blocks on all three of Clemson's rushing touchdowns in the inclement weather at North Carolina. It was the third straight game and fifth in the last six in which Flesch has graded at least 80 percent.

Flesch now has 72 knockdown blocks for the season and 262 for his brilliant career. He is now just 10 knockdown blocks away from tying former teammate Eric Harmon's career record of 272.

Clemson vs. the Pac 10

Clemson will meet California on New Year's Day in the 1992 Florida Citrus Bowl, just the third contest for the Tigers against a team from the Pac 10 in history. However, it will be the second time within the last six years that the Tigers have taken on a Pac 10 team in a bowl game.

In the 1986 Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, FL, the Tigers downed Stanford, 27-21. Clemson had a 27-0 lead in that contest at the half, then held on as Stanford's Brad Muster, now with the Chicago Bears, scored three touchdowns. Stanford got the ball back in the final two minutes with a chance to win the game, but the Tiger defense stiffened.

Clemson's only other contest with a Pac 10 team took place on October 22, 1966 when Clemson dropped a 30-0 decision to a Southern Cal team that won the Pac 10 and played in the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal was ranked fifth in the nation entering that game in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Clemson Has 9-1-1 Season

Clemson has only one loss entering the Florida Citrus Bowl, the best regular season mark by a Tiger team since 1982. That year Clemson was 9-1-1 for the regular season, but did not go to a bowl because of probation.

postseason play since 1981. That year Clemson had a perfect regular season with an 11-0 mark, then downed Nebraska 22-15 to win the Orange Bowl and the National Championship.

Clemson has had nine seasons of one loss or better in regular season play, given a schedule of at least nine games. Those seasons include: 1938 (7-1-1); 1939 (9-1); 1948 (11-0); 1950 (9-0-1); 1978 (11-1); 1981 (12-0); 1982 (9-1-1); 1983 (9-1-1); 1991 (9-1-1).

Clemson Has Third Best Record Since 1987

Clemson has the third best record in college football over the last five years and the Tigers will go for their 50th win since 1987 in the California game. Only Miami and Florida State have a better record than Clemson over the last five years. Of course, Clemson and Florida State will meet at Clemson next season in September. Only six teams have won at least 80 percent of their games over the last five years.

Clemson #2 in Bowl Winning Percentage

With its triumph over Illinois in the Hall of Fame Bowl last year, Clemson moved into a tie for second place in NCAA history in bowl game winning percentage. Based on teams who have played at least 15 bowl games, Clemson has a .647 winning percentage off an 11-6 record dating back to a 6-3 win over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl.

The Tigers have won five bowl games in a row and six of their last seven. Only Georgia Tech, also from the ACC, has a better winning percentage in bowl games over the years. The Tigers are tied with Southern Cal and can obviously go ahead of the Trojans with a win over California. In fact, a win by the Tigers and a loss by Georgia Tech on Christmas Day in the Aloha Bowl will give Clemson the all-time lead. Clemson and Florida State are the only two teams in the nation with a five-game winning streak in bowl play (that is a bowl win in each of the last five years).

Still No Back over 100 Yards vs. Tigers

Clemson still has not allowed a running back to gain 100 yards or more against its defense this year. In fact, you have to go back to the 1988 season to find the last time a running back gained at least 100 yards against the Tigers. The last opponent to gain 100 yards against Clemson was Kennard Martin of North Carolina on November 5, 1988. Since then Clemson has gone 38 straight games without giving up 100 yards rushing to an individual. Martin gained 116 yards in 16 attempts and scored a touchdown in a 37-14 Clemson win. The Tar Heels had just 109 yards rushing as a team that day.

Over the last five years, covering 59 games, only one team has had over 200 yards rushing against Clemson as a team. Virginia had 213 yards on the ground on 42 attempts against the Tigers in Charlottesville, VA. That is it over the last 59 games, just one team over 200 yards. Along those same lines, 33 teams have failed to gain at least 100 yards against the Tigers on the ground in those 59 games. Nine of the 11 Clemson opponents have failed to get over 82 yards rushing against Clemson this year.

The rushing defense has been especially impressive under Hatfield. The Arkansas graduate has coached Clemson for 23 games so far and 19 games his rushing defense has held the opposition under 100 yards. The high rushing mark against Clemson this year is just 123 yards by Georgia Tech. That day Jimmy Lincoln had 94 yards, the closest an individual has come to a 100-yard day against the Clemson defense over the last 38 games.

Clemson Leads All-ACC Selections

Clemson had nine selections on the first-team All-ACC team this year, more than any other school, and just one choice off the Clemson single season record for All-ACC choices. The Tigers had five of their defensive starters make the first team, while three members of Clemson's number-one ranked offense also were chosen. Placekicker Nelson Welch was also selected.

Two Tigers were chosen to the second team, offensive tackle Bruce Bratton and tailback Ronald Williams.

Clemson first-team All-ACC selections

*Jeb Flesch, OG (First-team All-American, led Clemson in knockdown blocks with 72.)

*Mike Brown, C (Graded over 80 percent four times, nine knockdown blocks vs. Virginia)

*Terry Smith, WR (Second in ACC in receptions with 45, he averaged 99 yards a game in receiving over his last four games)

*Nelson Welch, PK (Set Clemson record with five field goals in key victory over N.C. State)

*Levon Kirkland, OLB (First-team All-American who is third in Clemson history in sacks, only Perry Brothers have more)

*Rob Bodine, MG (First-team All-American who had 27 tackles for loss this year. Third in Clemson history in tackles for loss, only the Perry Brothers have more.)

*Chester McGlockton, DT (Second on team in tackles for loss with 15, has had at least one tackle for loss in 10 straight games)

*Ed McDaniel, ILB (Has 381 career tackles, needs just two to surpass Randy Scott for third place in Clemson history)

*Robert O'Neal, FS (First-team All-ACC as a freshman, second-team as a sophomore, back to first-team as a junior)

Two Bowl MVPs on Clemson Team

DeChane Cameron and Levon Kirkland are two current Tigers who know what it feels like to be named the MVP of a bowl game. Cameron had a then career day passing in Clemson's 30-0 win over Illinois last year in the Hall of Fame Bowl. The native of Georgia hit 14-19 passes for 141 yards and two touchdowns, and also rushed 17 times for 76 yards to lead the Tigers in that important category.

Kirkland was named the MVP of Clemson's 1989 Gator Bowl victory over West Virginia. Then a sophomore, Kirkland had nine tackles, a sack, a pass deflection, caused a fumble and had three quarterback pressures. In general he chased Major Harris around the field all evening.

Tigers with Bowl Experience

Clemson has many players with significant bowl experience. Three current starters should make their fourth bowl start in the Citrus Bowl. Offensive guard Jeb Flesch has started each of the last three Clemson bowls, while Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside, Ed McDaniel and Levon Kirkland, will be making their fourth bowl start, respectively.

No back has rushed for 100 yards against the Clemson defense since 1988. Hitting like that delivered by All-ACC FS Robert O'Neal is a major reason.

Bruce Bratton, an academic All-America offensive tackle, and free safety Robert O'Neal, will be making their third bowl start. Rob Bodine, Mike Brown, Terry Smith, DeChane Cameron and Chester McGlockton are five other players expected to start against California who have already started one bowl game in their careers.

Clemson has seven players on the current team who will be playing in their fourth bowl game. The seven Clemson players on the roster with previous Citrus Bowl experience include, starters Jeb Flesch, Levon Kirkland, Ed McDaniel, and Tyrone Mouton. The others are David Davis, Chuck O'Brien and Tony Kennedy.

O'Brien's career actually goes back to the 1988 Florida Citrus Bowl with Penn State. O'Brien played in that game as a special teamer as a first-year freshman. He will become the first player in history to play in three Citrus Bowl games. O'Brien sat out the 1989 season, but played in the 1988 game against Penn State and the 1989 game against Oklahoma.

Blunt Comes on Strong

Rodney Blunt made quite a strong finish to the regular season and ended the year ranked fifth in the ACC in rushing. He averaged 94.6 yards a game over his last five contests, including a career high 163 yards against Duke in the Coca Cola Bowl.

Blunt averaged 20.5 rushing attempts per game over the last six contests, so it was evident he was the workhorse of the Tiger team. The former high school All-American from Pensacola, FL also ranked third on the team in receiving this year with 17 catches for 150 yards.

Stat Comparisons of Interest Between Clemson and California:

*Clemson led the nation in rushing defense this year allowing just 53.4 yards per game, the second best rushing defense in college football over the last 21 years. California averaged 224.6 yards per game on the ground.

*Clemson's defense has not allowed a back to gain over 100 yards against it in the last 38 games. California running back Russell White averaged 107 yards a game on the ground and had six 100-yard games this season.

*Clemson has the more celebrated defense, but the Tigers have recorded just four more sacks than California's defense this year (41-37).

*Both teams have field goal kickers who ranked among the top 10 in the country most of the year. Nelson Welch had 17 field goals in 11 games, while California's Doug Brien had 19 field goals in 11 games.

*Both teams average over 400 yards a game in total offense. The Tigers led the ACC with 409.7 yards per game, while California ranked in the top 15 in the nation with 456.1 yards per game. Clemson has only given up over 400 yards in total offense in two of the 23 games Ken Hatfield has coached at Clemson.

*California running back Russell White gained 231 yards rushing in one game against Southern Cal this year. Clemson's defense has given up just 183 total rushing yards in the last six games combined.

*Clemson has out-rushed the opposition by an average of 280-31 over the last six games. That includes a 355-18 advantage in rushing yardage against Duke in the regular season finale.

*California scored 50 touchdowns, including 26 rushing. Clemson only gave up 17 touchdowns all year, including just five on the ground.

Clemson Unbeaten in ACC

Clemson recorded its first unbeaten season in ACC play since 1982, when the Tigers downed Duke in Tokyo. Clemson was 6-0-1 in ACC play this year, the first unbeaten season for the Tigers since a 6-0 ACC ledger was finished with a win over Wake Forest in Tokyo nine years ago. Clemson was 5-1-1 in 1986 when the Tigers won the league, while the Tigers were 6-1 in the conference title seasons of 1987 and 1988. Clemson did not win the league in 1989 and 1990 when Clemson was third and second in the ACC, respectively.

Even though Clemson has had 13 ACC championships, the Tigers have had just five other unbeaten seasons in ACC play in history. Clemson was unbeaten in ACC play in 1956 (4-0-1), in 1967 (6-0-0), 1978 (6-0-0), 1981 (6-0-0) and 1982 (6-0-0).

Smith Has Back-to-back 100-yard Games

Clemson wide receiver Terry Smith had five receptions for 117 yards against South Carolina, the second straight game he had at least 100 yards receiving in a game. He also had 120 yards receiving on four receptions against Maryland on November 16 in Clemson's final home game of the season.

The last Clemson player to pick up over 100 yards receiving in back-to-back games is Jerry Butler. The 1978 All-American had 124 yards receiving against North Carolina, then had 140 yards at Maryland the following Saturday, a game that clinched the ACC championship.

Smith finished off the regular season in grand style with three catches for 68 yards against Duke, but he caught two passes for TDs.

Smith now has 45 receptions for 758 yards for the season. His reception total is the most by a Clemson player since Perry Tuttle had 52 catches in 1981. His reception yardage total is also the most since Tuttle had 883 in 1981. He is averaging 4.1 catches per game and that is the most since Tuttle had a 4.33 per game average in 1981. He broke the Clemson record for receptions by a sophomore, he already had the freshman record from his performance in 1990.

Smith's season currently ranks as the fifth best in terms of reception yardage and fifth in terms of total receptions with 45. The record for receptions in a season is 58 by Jerry Butler in 1978, and the mark for reception yards in a season is 915 by Perry Tuttle in 1980.

Tigers with Back to Back 40-point Games

Clemson scored 114 points over the last three games, 40 against Maryland, 41 against South Carolina and 33 against Duke. The back-to-back 40-point games took place for the first time since 1984. That year Clemson opened the season with a 40-7 victory over Appalachian State, then downed Virginia 55-0 in Charlottesville.

Clemson has never had three straight games of scoring at least 40 points in a game. The closest Clemson has come to three straight 40-point games was in 1983 when the Tigers downed Georgia Tech 41-14, Virginia 42-21 and Duke 38-31 on consecutive Saturdays. They scored 26 points in the fourth period against Duke in the Coca Cola Bowl to come close.

Hatfield Gains 100th Victory

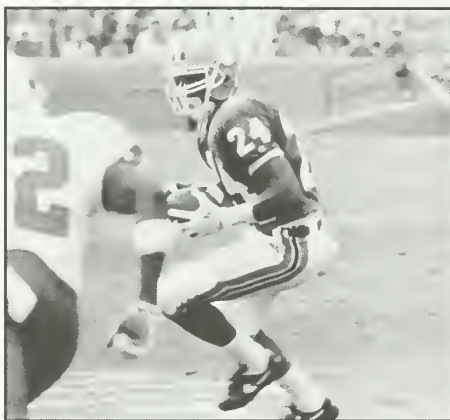

Clemson Coach Ken Hatfield gained his 100th victory as a head coach when Clemson defeated Duke. He has a 100-52-3 career record heading into the Citrus Bowl. He has a 19-3-1 record as head coach of the Tigers after running up a 26-32-1 record in five years at Air Force and 55-17-1 in six years at Arkansas.

Hatfield will take his Tigers to the Florida Citrus Bowl January 1 to take on a 9-2 California team. This will be the 10th straight year he has taken a team to a bowl game. Only Bobby Bowden of Florida State, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and LaVell Edwards of BYU will also be taking teams to a bowl game for the 10th straight season. It will be the fourth straight year he has taken a team to a January 1 bowl game.

Clemson is ranked 12th in the USA Today poll and 13th by AP heading into the bowl. Hatfield has taken each of his last three teams and five of his last six (not counting this year) to a final top 15 ranking.

Kirkland, McGlockton #3 in Sacks

Clemson first-team All-America outside linebacker Levon Kirkland posted two sacks in Clemson's victory at South Carolina on November 23. That gave Kirkland 5.5 sacks for the season and 19 for his career. It marked the first time this year that Kirkland, a senior who has played in 47 straight games, had recorded two sacks in a game. Chester McGlockton had a sack against Duke and tied Kirkland for number-three on Clemson's career sack list. McGlockton still has another year of eligibility remaining.

Smith led all Atlantic Coast Conference wide receivers in receptions and became the first Tiger since Jerry Butler to post back-to-back 100-yard games.

That duo now trails only the Perry Brothers in terms of career sacks at Clemson. Michael Dean Perry holds the record with 28, while William Perry had 27.

Cameron Had One of Best Days in Clemson History

Clemson quarterback DeChane Cameron set an all-time Clemson record, and had a top three day in another important category in Clemson's win over South Carolina. Cameron hit on 12-14 passes for 206 yards and also gained 116 yards in 20 rushing attempts. The 85.7 percent completion mark broke the record of 81.8 percent held by Bobby Gage against Furman in 1947 and by Mike O'Cain against Maryland in 1975. Both of those quarterbacks were 9-11 for the day. These records are based on a minimum of 10 attempts.

The 322 yards in total offense ranked as the third best in Clemson history, the best by a Clemson player since 1965. He was also the first Tiger to gain over 100 yards rushing and 200 yards passing since Ken Pengitore had 100 yards rushing and 212 passing against North Carolina in 1973. It had been 11 years since a Clemson running back had gained at least 100 rushing and 100 passing in the same game. Homer Jordan, vs. Virginia in 1980, was the last to do it.

Clemson Leads ACC in Total Offense and Total Defense

Clemson led the ACC in total offense and total defense. The Tigers became the first ACC team to lead the league in both categories since Maryland did it in 1985 under Bobby Ross. Clemson had not led the ACC in both total offense and total defense since 1978, when a Steve Fuller led offense paced the conference with 428 yards per game and the defense led by Jim Stuckey and Bubba Brown, allowed just 254 yards a game.

Clemson has led the ACC in total offense and total defense in the same year three times, 1978, 1960 and 1957. So, this Clemson team did something only one other Tiger team in the last 30 years has accomplished.

Stephens 8th in Nation in Punt Returns

Clemson first-year freshman Darnell Stephens gained 116 yards on four punt returns against Maryland, the third best punt return game in Clemson history. The only single game performances better than Stephens's took place in 1970 and 1987. The all-time record is 167 yards on four returns by Don Kelley at Maryland on Halloween, 1970. In 1987, Donnell Woolford had 126 yards on five returns against Georgia Tech. Stephens's performance was only the fifth 100-yard punt return day in Clemson history.

A key to his 116-yard day was an 89-yarder in the fourth quarter. That was the fourth longest punt return in Clemson history, third longest in ACC history. Richie Luzzi had a 108-yard missed field goal return at Georgia in 1968 that counted as a punt return in those days. Shad Bryant had a 90 yarder in 1938 against VMI and Bobby Gage had a 90-yarder in Death Valley in 1948 against N.C. State, the only score of the game in a 6-0 Tiger win. As far as ACC history (since 1953), only the return by Luzzi, and a 90-yarder by Dick Nolan for Maryland against Clemson in 1953 are longer.

Stephens received quite a bit of exposure for the return. He was the CNN play of the day for that 89-yarder on November 16 and was also the recipient of the AT&T Long Distance Award. That award goes to the best long play of the day in college football. AT&T also provides a $400 donation to Clemson's scholarship fund in Stephens's name.

The last Clemson player to rank in the top 10 in the nation in punt returns was Woolford, who ranked third in the nation with a 15.5 average in 1987. The only other Clemson player to rank in the top 25 in the nation in punt returns for a season is Willie Jordan, who was fourth in the country in 1978 with a 13.8 average.

Clemson Defense Solid Since 1987

Clemson has been among the top defensive teams in the nation over the last five seasons. In fact, the Tigers have ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense each of the last five seasons. This includes a number-one ranking in total defense last year and top five finishes in 1987 and 1989.

Clemson National Defensive Stat Rankings since 1987

Clemson Offense Balanced

Clemson had perhaps its most balanced, successful total offense game in recent history in the victory over Maryland. The Tigers gained 460 yards in total offense, exactly 230 rushing and 230 passing. It was the second highest passing game of the season for the Tigers, who had 246 yards at Georgia in a loss in October. Clemson came back with another game of at least 200 yards in rushing and passing in the same game against South Carolina (231 passing, 272 rushing). Clemson was not as balanced against Duke, but did have 455 yards in total offense, 355 rushing and 100 passing.

The South Carolina game also marked just the fourth game in the last seven years that Clemson has had at least 200 yards in each area.

Tigers Still With Just one Loss

There are 11 teams left in Division I who have just one loss. Those teams include Miami (FL) with a 11-0 slate, Washington at 11-0-0, Michigan at 10-1, Florida at 10-1, Alabama at 10-1, Iowa at 10-1, Nebraska at 9-1-1, Texas A&M at 10-1, East Carolina 10-1, Clemson at 9-1-1 and Bowling Green at 10-1.

Heading into this season there were only two teams who had had two losses or less each of the last five years, Clemson and Miami. The Tigers have already clinched the fact that they will join Miami as the only two schools in that category for the last six years.

Tigers Have Scored in 149 in a Row

Clemson has scored in 149 straight games, the longest streak of its kind in the history of the ACC heading into the California game. Clemson has not been shut out since September 15, 1979, the second game of that season. The Maryland Terps downed Clemson that day 19-0. Clemson lost the game even though it set a school defense record for sacks in a game. Clemson has not been shut out on the road since September 23, 1978 when a Clemson team that went on to an 11-1 record, lost 12-0 at Georgia. That Clemson offense had six starters that went on to play in the NFL, including future All-Pros Jeff Bostic, Dwight Clark and Jerry Butler.

During the last 149 games Clemson has been held to under double figures just 10 times. The last came against Georgia Tech in the Tigers 9-7 victory this year. The last time Clemson failed to score a touchdown came at N.C. State in a 10-3 loss in 1988. The Tigers have scored in double figures 139 times, at least 20 points 104 times, at least 30 points 53 times and at least 40 points 22 times during this 149-game stretch.

Tigers Finish Big November

Clemson had five games scheduled in the month of November, so Tiger fans were hoping for a big month. This was the first time since 1958 that Clemson has had five games in November. Clemson won four of five on the way to a Sugar Bowl bid that year. Clemson also had five games in November in 1933 (2-3), 1929 (2-3), 1918 (4-1) and 1911 (2-3).

The month that features Thanksgiving has been a good month for the Tigers of late. In fact, Clemson has not lost a game in November since 1987 when South Carolina defeated the Tigers in Columbia 20-7. Clemson has not lost a home game in November since 1985 when Maryland stopped the Tigers 34-31. The Tigers have won 16 straight games in November or January dating back to 1987. Over the last 10 years Clemson is 35-6-2 in November or January.

Over the years Clemson has had five games in a month many times, but only three times has Clemson had a perfect 5-0 record in one month. In October of 1981 Clemson defeated Kentucky, Virginia, Duke, N.C. State and Wake Forest for a perfect 5-0 record. Clemson was also 5-0 in October of 1977 by beating Virginia Tech, Virginia, Duke, N.C. State and Wake Forest.

Mr. Inside & Mr. Outside Award Finalists

Clemson inside linebacker Ed McDaniel and outside linebacker Levon Kirkland were both semifinalists for prestigious national awards in 1991. McDaniel, a senior inside linebacker, was one of 10 semifinalists for the Butkus Award, while Kirkland, a senior outside linebacker, was one of 12 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award. The Butkus Award is given to the top linebacker, while the Lombardi is given to the top lineman (offense or defense). Kirkland was one of five finalists for the Butkus in 1990.

Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside were both first-team All-Americans in 1991, the first time Clemson has had two linebackers on the same team make an All-America team. McDaniel was a first-team choice by College & Pro Football Weekly and a third-team selection by AP. He was also an honorable mention choice by UPI. Kirkland was first team by the American Football Coaches Association, Sporting News, Walter Camp and Scripps Howard, and a second-team choice by UPI.

Head Coach Ken Hatfield

When Clemson recorded its victory over Duke halfway around the world in Tokyo, Japan, Clemson head coach Ken Hatfield celebrated not just his first ever Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title, but also his 100th victory as a head coach. Going into the 1992 Florida Citrus Bowl, he has compiled a 100-52-3 career record. Even though Hatfield has been in coaching only since 1979, he has placed his name among the top mentors in the nation.

When Hatfield took over the Clemson program prior to the 1990 season, he was faced with the challenge of continuing the tradition of football excellence set in the eighties (only Nebraska and Miami had fewer losses in that time frame than Clemson). Hatfield has more than met the challenge, he has surpassed it in just his first two seasons, posting a 19-3-1 mark for the Tigers.

The victory over Illinois in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl made Hatfield the first Clemson coach to win 10 games in his first year and his .833 winning percentage is the best by a first-year Clemson coach since 1900 when John Heisman was 6-0. The 1990 season included six wins over teams with winning records. Only Georgia Tech had more.

Hatfield was just the eighth coach to take a team to a Top 10 AP final ranking in his first year with the program in the last 13 years. He was the first ACC coach in history to take a team to a final AP top 10 ranking in his first year at a school.

But Hatfield's impressive debut at Clemson was no big surprise to those who have followed his career. He has enjoyed success throughout his involvement with the sport of football, as a player and coach.

As a player, he helped Arkansas face every challenge in 1964, when the Razorbacks had an 11-0 season and won the national title. As an assistant coach at Tennessee and Florida, he molded countless players into top-notch athletes who competed for Southeastern Conference titles, played in seven bowl games in a 10-year period, and ranked in the final top-20 five times. As a head coach, he took a dormant Air Force program to a number-13 national ranking and a pair of bowl wins. He continued to meet the challenges at Arkansas, his alma mater, guiding the Razorbacks to back-to-back Southwest Conference titles, something that had not been done at Arkansas since Hatfield was a player.

Hatfield has had five 10-win seasons in his career with a shot at another with a victory over California in the Citrus Bowl. He has accomplished the task at three different schools. He is the only active coach to have taken three different schools to 10-win season, while he is one of just two coaches in the history of the game to take three schools to at least one 10-win season. Hatfield is also trying to become just the fifth coach in the history of the game, to win 10 games in each of his first two seasons with a program.

Hatfield has taken his teams to 10 consecutive post-season bowls, including January 1 appearances five of the last six years. He is one of just four active coaches to take a team to a bowl each of the last 10 years. He is in noteworthy company as the other members of that exclusive club are Tom Osborne (Nebraska), LaVell Edwards (BYU), and Bobby Bowden (Florida State).

Hatfield has an overall record of 100-52-3 (.655), but he has won 79 percent of his games over the last eight seasons (84-22-2). At Arkansas, he posted a record of 55-17-1 over six seasons, a .760 winning percentage. That percentage is second best in Southwest Conference history as only Darrell Royal (Texas 1957-76) had a better percentage.

The native of Helena, Arkansas, played in two bowl games with the Razorbacks, coached in seven post-season games as an assistant and the Citrus Bowl marks the 10th in which he is the head coach. Six times he has coached a team to a top 15 final ranking in the AP poll, and he played on two other top 15 teams. The victory over Illinois in the Hall of Fame Bowl last year gave him six top-15 seasons in the last eight years.

Hatfield-coached clubs have excelled offensively and defensively, but they have been particularly successful in rushing offense and defense. Each of his last 10 teams have finished in the top 20 nationally in rushing offense, including seven top 10 finishes.

Two of his last four Arkansas teams finished in the top three in the country in turnover margin, including his 1988 team that was first in the nation (Clemson was second that same year). Defensively, his clubs have finished in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense six of the last seven years. The Tigers ranked first in the nation in total defense, second in rushing defense, and second in scoring defense at the end of the 1990 regular season.

Clemson ranked first in the nation in rushing defense and fourth in total defense in the 1991 season.

Hatfield has coached in four major conferences and with independent schools, giving him a diverse background in the finer points of the game. It is one reason he was named the third best teaching coach in college football by Inside Sports Magazine in 1990.

Hatfield began his coaching career immediately after graduation. In the fall of 1965, he served as an assistant coach at Helena-West Helena High School in Arkansas. In 1966, he moved to West Point, where he served as freshman coach for two seasons.

After the two-year stint at Army, he served as an assistant coach at Tennessee for three years (1968-70). The Volunteers went to post-season bowls all three seasons (including two major bowls), won a conference title and ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll all three seasons, including a number-four ranking in 1970.

In 1971, Hatfield began a seven-year stint at the University of Florida, spending four seasons as a defensive backfield coach and three as an offensive backfield mentor. Florida played in four bowl games during his career in Gainesville and two more Gator teams finished in the AP top 20, including the 1974 team that played Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl.

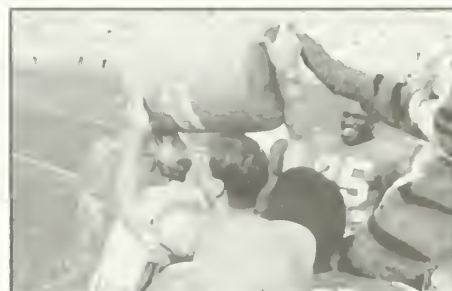

Hatfield became offensive coordinator at the Air Force Academy under former New York Giants Head Coach Bill Parcells in 1978. A year later, Parcells was wooed to the Big Apple and Hatfield became the Falcons' head coach. The Air Force program had not had a winning season since 1973. But by his fourth season, Hatfield had an eight-game winner, led Air Force to its first-ever victory over Notre Dame, and had taken the Falcons to a post-the National Championship team of 1964. A defensive back by trade, he earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He also finished as the runner-up as a sophomore and is still the only college football player to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight seasons.

His most memorable play took place against Texas in 1964 when he raced 81 yards with a punt return for a touchdown in Arkansas' thrilling 14-13 victory. It was the key victory in the Razorbacks' championship season. Altogether, Hatfield scored five TDs via punt returns in his career, including an Arkansas record 95-yard return against Tulsa in 1963.

An accounting major who earned his diploma in the spring of 1965, Hatfield was an Academic All-American in 1964 and was the recipient of the Swartz Award, presented annually to the top student-athlete at Arkansas. The 1964 All-SWC selection was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1989.

season bowl for the first time since 1971.

In 1983, Hatfield was named national Coach-of-the-Year by the Football Coaches Association (Bobby Dodd Award) after leading Air Force to a 10-2 season that included wins over Notre Dame, Navy and a bowl victory over Mississippi. It was the Academy's first-ever win over Notre Dame in South Bend.

The next year, Hatfield succeeded Lou Holtz at Arkansas, where he would take his alma mater to 55 wins in six seasons, six bowl appearances and four final top-15 rankings. His 1985 club finished with a 10-2 mark and number-12 national ranking, the Razorbacks' first Top 20 finish since 1982. Four times the Razorbacks rallied from fourth-quarter deficits to gain victory.

The 1986 campaign was another year of success with highlight victories over a nationally ranked Texas A&M club and the Razorbacks' first win in 20 years at Texas. Arkansas advanced to the Orange Bowl and finished 15th in the final AP poll.

Arkansas won the 1988 and 1989 Southwest Conference Championships. Hatfield was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1988 as he took the Razorbacks to the league title and a 10-0 start. Miami (FL) defeated Arkansas 18-16 in the Orange Bowl to stop the streak. Seven players off the 1988 club (all recruited by Hatfield) were drafted by the NFL, an Arkansas single draft record.

After the 1989 team's 10-2 ledger and second straight SWC championship, Hatfield was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Decade by the Houston Post. Included in the victories was a triumph over a top-15 Houston team and Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware.

Hatfield has also had success off the field. The CFA cited his 1989 Arkansas class for excellence in terms of graduation rate (over 80 percent), one of the top 10 figures in the nation.

"Football is a part of a young man's education. He learns about himself by playing football," states Hatfield. "It gives him a perspective of how to handle defeat as well as victory. Our success at Clemson will be reflected in the lives of our players after they leave Clemson University. We want to help make them the best people they can be. We want to maximize their potential. That is our challenge."

These statements were certainly watchwords for Hatfield as a player and these experiences have helped him in his relationship with his players. Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and he was a starter on

Dr. Richard P. Ellis
*Assistant Athletic Director

Dick Ellis is in his second year at Clemson after the highly successful 1990 season in which the Tigers finished a 10-2 season with a Hall of Fame Bowl victory over Big Ten Co-Champion Illinois and a ninth place finish in the national rankings. However, Dick Ellis is no stranger to winning athletic programs. As a coach and administrator he has been part of successful programs at Air Force, Texas A&M and Arkansas prior to becoming a Tiger.

Ellis came to Clemson from the University of Arkansas where he served as the recruiting coordinator and administrative assistant under Coach Ken Hatfield. The 1989 University of Arkansas Razorbacks finished with a 10-1 regular season record and a trip to the Cotton Bowl as the Southwest Conference Champions.

Former walkon who has done a good job for the Tigers in his only year of competition...helped the Tiger defense earn their national rankings by giving them good field position, 17 of his 50 punts were downed inside the opponent's 20-yardline, a better total than all-conference punter Chris Gardocki ever posted in his Clemson career and the best for a Tiger since Bill Spiers (now the starting shortstop for the Milwaukee Brewers) had 20 in 1986...Spiers had nine more punts than Lynch has had...graduate student who received the ESPN/Toyota Leadership Award for the North Carolina contest...earned his undergraduate degree in international trade last May...averaged over 40 yards per punt in two games this season, he had five kicks for 205 yards in the loss at Georgia and two for 82 yards at South Carolina...a prime reason Clemson allowed only 4.8 yards per punt return this year, the best figure in the ACC...only 18 of his 50 punts were returned...Tigers allowed just 86 yards in punt returns, best by a Clemson team since 1984...had two games in which four of his punts were down inside the 20, the Georgia Tech and North Carolina contests, both key Clemson victories...had eight kicks in the win over Tech's Yellow Jackets...had three 50-yard punts for the season, versus Georgia, N.C. State, and South Carolina...leads all Clemson kickers and punters since 1985 in the leg sled with a 670-pound mark...has been on the squad for four years, he did not appear in a game until 1991 when he was the starter...a three-sport athlete at Chestnut Hill Academy in Wyndmoor, PA...born 12/16/68 in Norristown, PA.

Clemson Coach Ken Hatfield talked about passing more often in the preseason in 1991 than in previous years. He lived up to the billing on the first play of the season, as DeChane Cameron hit Larry Ryans for a 38-yard pass completion. That drive stalled, but Clemson went on to score on each of its next four possessions in a 34-0 Tiger victory.

Clemson passed for 134 yards, but for the course of the game it was Clemson's dominance of the line of scrimmage that made the difference. The Tigers outgained Appalachian State 275-2 in terms of rushing yardage and had a 409-84 advantage in total offense for the game. The rushing yardage allowed by the Tiger defense ranked as the eighth best in Clemson history.

Ronald Williams led the Clemson rushing attack with 108 yards in only 14 attempts, while Cameron hit 7-11 passes for 100 yards while playing just two and a half quarters. Williams went over the 1,000-yard rushing mark in just the 12th game of his career. He did it on his 185th carry, the fastest any back in Clemson history has reached the 1,000-mark.

The Clemson defense posted the shutout, holding Appalachian State to less than two yards per play. Rob Bodine led the way with 13 tackles, including three behind the line of scrimmage, while Brentson Buckner and Wayne Simmons each had 1.5 sacks.

The hard hitting also caused three Mountaineer fumbles, as Clemson posted its second consecutive shutout dating back to last season. The 84 yards in total offense by Appalachian State ranked as the fewest yards allowed by an ACC team all season.

Tiger punter Chuck Lynch got his season off to a fine start with three punts inside the 20 and he allowed just one punt return for one yard. Kelvin Hankins and Les Hall had the best days of their career on the offensive line. Hankins played 67 snaps and had a 78 percent grade with a career high seven knockdowns, while Hall had a 83 percent grade and five knockdowns for 45 snaps.

Clemson's defense was at it again in game number-two, holding Temple to 104 yards in total offense, including just 15 yards passing in 12 attempts. Ed McDaniel, Rob Bodine, Brentson Buckner and Wayne Simmons combined for 10 tackles behind the line of scrimmage and three sacks as the Tigers moved to the top spot in the nation in total defense.

It was the seventh straight victory for Ken Hatfield the week after an open date. It was Clemson's 10th straight win in Death Valley, tying a Tiger record for consecutive victories in Death Valley.

Temple actually took the lead in the first period when Trent Thompson hit tight end Bryant Garvin for a one-yard touchdown pass. Temple had a 7-0 lead at the end of the first period, and gained 81 yards total offense and five first downs. But, the Owls would get just 23 yards in total offense and one first down over the final three periods.

Larry Ryans tied the count at seven with a 25-yard score on an end-around play in the second period, then the Tigers took the lead for good when DeChane Cameron hit Dwayne Bryant with a six-yard scoring pass near the middle of the second quarter for a 14-7 halftime lead. It was the first touchdown reception of Bryant's career.

Clemson scored 23 points after intermission to break the game open. Cameron hit Terry Smith for a 25-yard score in the third period to highlight the second half play. Ronald Williams led all Clemson running backs with 86 yards in 14 attempts, while Smith finished the game with four catches for 60 yards.

Ed McDaniel had 11 tackles to lead the Clemson defensive unit, while Bodine contributed eight and three more tackles behind the line of scrimmage. The victory extended Clemson's victory streak in Death Valley to 10 games.

Number-seven Clemson faced number-19 Georgia Tech in only the sixth battle of Top 20 teams in Death Valley's 50-year history. It proved to be a game for the ages as both defenses dominated throughout, and the contest came down to the final seconds in Clemson's 9-7 victory. The win ended a two-game losing streak for the Tigers against Georgia Tech, the only team to defeat Clemson at home in the last 15 games.

Georgia Tech took the lead in the first period as Shawn Jones scored on a 10-yard run to culminate an 84-yard drive, the second longest drive of the season against Clemson's number-four ranked defense. The key play of the drive was a 59-yard run by freshman Jimmy Lincoln, the longest run against the Tigers in two seasons. Lincoln finished the day with 94 yards rushing, the most against Clemson over the last 36 games. That one run represented 10 percent of all the rushing yardage allowed by Clemson in 1991.

Clemson came back to make it 7-3 on a 47-yard field goal by freshman Nelson Welch on the last play of the first half. It was his longest field goal of the season and it gave Clemson momentum going into the locker room.

The two teams battled through a scoreless third period. Clemson finally took the lead on its last drive of the game. The Tigers took over with 4:30 left in the game on the Georgia Tech 46 after a 23-yard punt return by Robert O'Neal. Six plays later Ronald Williams scored from two yards out with 2:06 left. Williams gained all 46 yards on the ground on Clemson's final drive. Clemson missed the conversion on Williams's touchdown due to a bad snap to account for the two-point difference.

Georgia Tech came back with a drive of its own behind Jones. They drove to the Clemson 27, but on a fourth-down play with eight seconds left, Scott Sisson's 44-yard attempt at the game winning field goal was wide right and Clemson had a 9-7 victory.

Georgia Tech outgained the Tigers 282-277 in terms of total offense, a fitting statistic considering Clemson had outgained Georgia Tech by 125 yards in the preceeding season in a Georgia Tech triumph in Atlanta.

Clemson traveled to Athens, GA ranked fifth in the nation in USA Today and sixth by the Associated Press. By 11:00 PM on October 5 the Tigers knew they would drop a considerable distance because the Bulldogs of Georgia soundly beat the Tigers by 15 points.

Athens, GA has never been a place that has seen a lot of success on the part of the Tigers. Clemson has won in Athens only twice since 1915. Clemson had beaten the Bulldogs in Clemson the previous year, 34-3.

Georgia freshman quarterback Eric Zeier threw for 249 yards and was not intercepted in 33 attempts in leading the Bulldogs, who broke an eight-game Clemson winning streak overall and a three-game winning streak in the series.

The turning point in the game took place in the final minute of the first half. Clemson had just scored to tie the count at three. With Georgia trying to run out the clock, Bulldog running back Garrison Heart fumbled and the Tigers recovered. But the play was nullified when a face mask call, 20 yards away from the play, was whistled against Clemson.

Now at the Georgia 43, the Bulldogs decided to throw a bomb. Zeier hit Arthur Marshall for 59 yards to the Tiger eight. On the next play the first-year freshman connected with Andre Hastings for a touchdown and a 10-3 halftime lead.

Clemson could not overcome this momentum swing and the Bulldogs went on to victory. Ronald Williams led Clemson rushers with 100 yards in 13 attempts, while DeChane Cameron connected on 19-38 passes for 246 yards.

Larry Ryans had the finest game of his career with 191 yards in all-purpose running, including an 18-yard scoring pass in the fourth period. The Tigers actually outgained the Bulldogs, 395-360, but still lost the game.

Terry Smith had seven catches for 64 yards at Georgia, giving him 52 receptions for just 16 games in his career. He reached the 50-catch mark the second fastest in Clemson history with his performance against Georgia.

Kenzil Jackson, a native of Georgia, also had the best game of his career in Athens. The native of LaGrange, GA, had a career high 10 tackles, including three tackles behind the line of scrimmage in 78 snaps.

While Clemson did not defeat the Virginia Cavaliers on October 12 in Death Valley, it was the game that put the Tigers on the right path to a conference title in 1991. The Tigers scored 10 points in the final four minutes to tie the Cavaliers, 20-20. As the season went on, Virginia continued to improve, and it was evident this was a battle between the ACC's two best teams at season's end.

Virginia scored on its first possession, something four teams did against the Tigers in 1991. Matt Blundin hit Aaron Mundy with a 15-yard scoring pass to give the Cavs a 7-0 lead. Blundin continued to lead the Cavs on scoring marches and Virginia had a 20-10 lead late in the game.

But Clemson came back behind fullback Rudy Harris, who had 102 yards rushing on the day. His score from one-yard out with 3:22 left brought Clemson to within three. The Cavs tried to run out the clock and gain their second straight victory over the Tigers.

On a third-and-two from the Virginia 45, Terry Kirby was hit by Clemson's Robert O'Neal at the Virginia 48, a spot that was already a Cav first down. Clemson's Kenzil Jackson recovered with 2:49 left and Clemson still had hope.

Clemson drove to the Virginia 27 and Nelson Welch hit the clutch 44-yard field goal with 46 seconds left to tie the score. The Cavs drove deep into Clemson territory, but with one second left Michael Husted lined up for a 34-yard field goal. Wayne Simmons got a hand on the ball and the kick was wide, allowing Clemson to gain the tie.

Ronald Williams had 185 yards rushing and 242 yards in all-purpose running to lead the Tigers. That was a career high for Williams in both categories and the sixth highest all-purpose running game in Clemson history. The Tigers picked up 511 yards in total offense for the game, the most by a Hatfield coached team and the most ever by a Clemson team in a non-victory.

Clemson had four ACC Player of the Week selections for the Virginia game. Tyrone Gibson was the offensive lineman of the week with 12 knockdown blocks, while Chester McGlockton was the defensive lineman of the week with 10 tackles. Darnell Stephens was the ACC Rookie of the Week, while Robert O'Neal was the defensive back of the week.

Clemson	0	7	3	10	—	20
Virginia	10	7	0	3	—	20

Ronald Williams gained 242 yards in all-purpose running against Virginia, the sixth best single game figure in Clemson history.

Nelson Welch booted five field goals to tie a Clemson single game record and lead Clemson to a pivotal victory over previously undefeated and 12th-ranked N.C. State. The Tigers warmed up in orange jerseys, then changed into purple jerseys before they appeared at the top of the hill. It was the first time since 1939 that Clemson had worn purple jerseys.

Clemson had a 23-7 lead at halftime, posting its best all-around half of the year with 297 yards total offense. The Tigers did that without the services of Ronald Williams, who suffered a knee injury in pregame warmups.

DeChane Cameron led the Tigers with 143 yards passing and 79 yards rushing, pacing the team in both categories. Cameron was a most decorated player after this game. He was named the ACC Player of the Week by Exxon, an award that goes to just one player each week. He was also the State of South Carolina Offensive Player of the Week and was the ACC Offensive Back of the Week. Rodney Blunt added 74 yards rushing as Williams's replacement.

Welch booted field goals of 31, 42, 32, 46 and 41 to break the Clemson record. He became the second Clemson player in history to boot three field goals of at least 40 yards in the same game and he also set a Clemson record for yardage on made field goals. He became just the third player in the NCAA to kick five field goals in a game with the more narrow goalposts used in 1991.

Rob Bodine, who again was chosen ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week, led the Tigers with 10 tackles, including three behind the line of scrimmage and two sacks. Levon Kirkland also had eight stops and a sack, including four tackles in the fourth quarter. He was a prime reason N.C. State gained just 10 yards rushing for the entire game.

After a month of "big games", Clemson kept the intensity going for the first half of the contest with Wake Forest. The Tigers posted 28 points in the first half behind an offense that accumulated 265 first-half yards, and went on to a 28-10 victory over Wake Forest, Clemson's 15th consecutive victory over the Demon Deacons.

Rodney Blunt rushed for what was then career high 103 yards and a pair of touchdowns, while DeChane Cameron connected on 8-14 passes for 93 yards. Blunt also caught four passes for 29 yards in his finest all-around game to date. All-American guard Jeb Flesch keyed the offensive line with an 85 percent grade and 12 knockdown blocks as Clemson held the ball for 38:28 compared to just 21:22 for the Deacons.

Levon Kirkland had his best game of the year with eight tackles, three stops behind the line of scrimmage, a sack and a caused fumble in only 24 plays of action. Robert O'Neal was also outstanding on the Clemson defense with two interceptions and five tackles. The interceptions moved O'Neal into a tie for fifth place in Clemson history in interceptions.

The victory was the first of five wins in November for the Tigers. It marked just the third time in Clemson history that the Tigers won five games in one month, the first time they have ever done it in November.

Doug Bolin, a red-shirt senior, had the game of his career with 57 yards on just 11 carries. The oldest player on the Clemson roster also scored a touchdown, the first of his career.

Clemson used a bone-crushing defense and the all-around play of quarterback DeChane Cameron in registering a 15-point win over North Carolina on a cold, rainy night in Chapel Hill.

Cameron picked up 117 yards rushing, most by a Clemson quarterback since 1976 and the first 100-yard day by a Clemson quarterback in 10 years. It was Cameron who got Clemson off to a good start with a 41-yard touchdown run in the first half. The victory moved Cameron's record as the Clemson starting quarterback to 16-3-1. The 82.5 percent mark moved him to first in Clemson history in winning percentage.

The Tar Heels closed the gap to 7-6 in the third period, but the Tigers scored a pair of TDs in the fourth period to seal the victory as Rudy Harris and Cameron crossed the goal line in the fourth period. Terry Smith caught all five of Cameron's completions on this windy evening, including a 48-yarder on Clemson's final touchdown drive that broke the game open.

North Carolina never scored a touchdown against the Tiger defense, the third straight year the Tar Heels have not crossed the Clemson goal line. Ed McDaniel led all Clemson tacklers with a career high 15 stops. It gave McDaniel 348 tackles for his career, fourth best in Clemson history.

Rob Bodine, Brentson Buckner, Chuck O'Brien, David Davis and Chester McGlockton had two tackles for loss apiece for the Tigers, who held the Tar Heels to just 181 yards in total offense and just nine first downs.

Cameron gained 207 yards in total offense in a driving rainstorm at North Carolina. He had 117 yards rushing, most by a Tiger quarterback in 15 years.

The Tigers won their 13th ACC championship with a dominating 40-7 victory over Maryland on November 16. It was the first ACC title for Clemson since 1988 and it gave Clemson's 22 seniors 37 total victories over the last four years, tied for fourth best in ACC history.

Clemson had a perfectly balanced offense with 230 yards rushing and 230 yards passing. DeChane Cameron threw for 196 yards in the first half and finished the game with 213, the second highest total of his career.

First-year freshman cornerback Darnell Stephens delighted the sun-drenched crowd with an 89-yard punt return, the third longest in ACC history and second longest ever by a Clemson player in Death Valley. He had 116 yards in punt returns on the day, third best in Clemson history, and he moved to number-four in the nation in that category. It was also the most punt return yards in a game by an ACC player all season.

Terry Smith had 120 yards in receptions, the most reception yards by a Clemson player in four years. He had one 43-yard scoring reception and also caught a 52-yard pass that set up a score.

Once again Ed McDaniel led Clemson with 10 tackles, but Rob Bodine chipped in with three tackles for loss and eight total stops. Maryland gained just 39 yards rushing on 31 attempts and completed just 11 of 30 passes. Fourteen different Clemson players were involved in a tackle for loss.

Jeb Flesch was again named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week with a 78 percent blocking grade. It was his 42nd straight start for the Tigers.

The Tigers won state bragging rights for another year as the Clemson seniors became just the second class in 50 seasons to post a perfect 4-0 record against their in-state rivals with a 41-24 win over the Gamecocks. The game marked the second consecutive week that the Tigers put 40 points on the board, a feat Clemson had not accomplished since 1984.

Quarterback DeChane Cameron not only had the best game of his Clemson career, but one of the best games in Clemson history. Cameron connected on 12 of 14 passes for 206 yards and gained 116 yards in 20 rushing attempts. That 85.7 percent completion mark broke the Clemson single game record and his 322 yards in total offense ranked as the third-best in Clemson history, the best since 1965. The percentage mark tied for the best in the ACC in 1991.

The Tigers jumped on the scoreboard first with Rudy Harris's first of two touchdowns in the first quarter, and then added a Nelson Welch field goal and a 31-yard scoring romp by Cameron. Meanwhile, the Gamecocks also scored a touchdown and a field goal in the first half, giving Clemson a slim 17-10 lead at the intermission. But the Tiger defense held USC scoreless in the third period and the Tigers added 17 points as Harris crossed the goalline again on a six-yard run, tailback Rodney Blunt scored from the 16, and Welch added another field goal. Clemson gained 228 yards in total offense in the third period alone.

Wide Receiver Terry Smith had over 100 receiving yards for the second straight week with five grabs for 117 yards, the first Clemson player to do so since Jerry Butler had consecutive 100-yard receiving games in 1978. Smith scored the Tigers' final touchdown on a 25-yard pass from Richard Moncrief in the fourth quarter.

South Carolina native Levon Kirkland moved into third-place on the Clemson career sack list with a pair of sacks versus the Gamecocks, giving him 19 for his career and 5.5 for the season. The defense, led by another South Carolinian Ed McDaniel's nine tackles, proved worthy of its number-one national ranking in rushing defense as it limited the Gamecocks to only 15 yards on the ground.

The Tigers completed their first undefeated season in ACC play since 1982 with a hard-fought 33-21 victory over Duke. Ken Hatfield had to take his team a long way to gain his 100th career victory as the two teams travelled to Tokyo, Japan, to play in the 16th annual Coca-Cola Bowl.

Clemson kept the ball on the ground, gaining 355 of its total 455 yards with the rushing game. That was the most yards rushing in a game by an ACC team all season. Two Tiger runners, tailback Rodney Blunt and fullback Rudy Harris, each posted career highs in terms of rushing yardage as Blunt carried the ball 24 times for 163 yards and Harris gained 126 yards on 13 carries and scored two TDs. One of Harris's scores was a 59-yard romp, the longest rush for a Tiger all year.

DeChane Cameron led the Tigers into the endzone with a 13-yard pass to Terry Smith in the second quarter to tie the game at 7-7 before leaving the game with an injury. The Blue Devils went up 14-7 in the third quarter, but second-string signal caller Richard Moncrief came on in relief and led the Tigers into the endzone three times in the fourth quarter, scoring on a 34-yard run and connecting with Smith on a 34-yard touchdown strike. Clemson scored 26 points in the fourth period overall, its highest scoring quarter of the season and the highest scoring fourth quarter by a Clemson team since 1988.

The Tiger defense continued to play tough against the run, as the unit allowed only 18 yards on the ground. With four tackles for loss, middle guard Rob Bodine moved into a tie with William Perry for first-place in Clemson history for tackles for loss in a single season. He concluded the regular season with 27.

The victory was Clemson's second overseas. The Tigers also defeated Wake Forest in the final game of the 1982 season to clinch an unbeaten ACC regular season.

Clemson set a school standard for rushing defense in 1990, a mark that was broken again in 1991. A strong pass rush that led to 43 sacks had a lot to do with it. Here Brenton Buckner gets to a Georgia quarterback.

1986 Gator Bowl

Clemson 27, Stanford 21

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard-line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from halftime a different team. Kodak All-America tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game, Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Terrence Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goalline situation in the first half.

Rodney Williams was the MVP of Clemson's win over Stanford in the 1986 Gator Bowl.

1988 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 35, Penn State 10

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team, 35-10. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most-Valuable-Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams second bowl victory in his three year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 15 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Gary Cooper also had four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State.

The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards and another touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles. Linebacker Dorian Marable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

#56 Dorian Marable was the defensive MVP of the Citrus Bowl win over Penn State.

1989 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 13, Oklahoma 6

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford has now defeated the top-three winningest active coaches this decade with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Joe Paterno of Penn State.

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 rushing yards, and zero touchdowns.

The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Holieway at the 19. After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle on a field goal and moved up 3-0.

Doug Brewster intercepted a Holieway pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers' first score, a 20-yard boot by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A Clemson fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Clemson defense held and Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most-Valuable-Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score before the final horn sounded. After the Tigers punted, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tigers' secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tigers' victory.

Terry Allen was named the Citrus Bowl MVP for his performance. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes to lead all Clemson receivers. Bandit end Jesse Hatcher was named Defensive MVP for what was his best career performance as he racked up nine tackles, had two tackles for a loss of 33 yards, including an 18-yard sack, broke up two passes, caused and recovered a fumble, and had four quarterback pressures.

1989 Gator Bowl

Clemson 27, West Virginia 7

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

WVU quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in excellent field position as he posted a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63 yards. Defensively, inside linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

1991 Hall of Fame Bowl

Clemson 30, Illinois 0

After a separation of 22 years, two coaches found themselves once again on the same football field. This time, however, they were on opposite sidelines. Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic, who had been graduate assistants together at Army in the 1960's, were reunited in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl. But this game was much more than a reunion. Both head coaches were looking for a first win over the opposing team and Ken Hatfield was hoping to maintain Clemson's four-game bowl winning streak.

The Clemson defense dominated the Illini by holding them to 247 yards, 150 yards under their season average. The Clemson offense surprised the Illini defense with an unexpected aerial assault. Tiger quarterback and game MVP DeChane Cameron, who was less than a 50 percent passer in the regular season, completed 14 of 19 passes for a Hall of Fame Bowl record 73 percent.

Cameron's passing yardage totalled 141 yards and he completed TD passes to Doug Thomas and Howard Hall. It was the first TD reception for both players in their respective careers. Thomas caught five passes on the day for 57 yards, career highs for both categories for the senior in his last game as a Tiger.

Clemson took its opening possession 71 yards to the Illinois two where Chris Gardocki tapped in an easy three. After Illinois fumbled on its first offensive play of the game, Clemson scored a touchdown with a 14-yard pass from Cameron to Thomas. Clemson had not scored a passing touchdown in any of its four previous bowl victories.

In the second quarter, the Tigers would score two more touchdowns. The first was the result of a 17-yard Cameron pass to fullback Howard Hall. It was just the third TD pass to a Clemson fullback in the last 18 years. Clemson then put the contest out of reach just three plays later when Arlington Nunn scored on a 34-yard interception return. It was the senior's third TD on an interception return in 1990, a Clemson record. It was especially gratifying for the Tiger senior playing his last game at Clemson because Nunn is a native of nearby Clearwater, FL.

The Clemson defense continued to hold Illinois throughout the remainder of the game. John Johnson led the Tiger pass defense as he picked up two sacks to lead a Clemson point prevention unit that had five sacks on the day. Illinois reached the Clemson eight-yard line in the fourth quarter, but the Tiger defense forced a fumble which Ed McDaniel picked-up. Illinois had the ball in Clemson territory just three times all day.

The Clemson defense earned its third shutout of the year. This was the first shutout at a Hall of Fame Bowl game and Clemson's third bowl shutout in 17 bowl appearances. The 30-0 triumph was a Tiger record for victory margin in a bowl game.

Clemson Players in the NFL

Twenty-one former Clemson players have appeared in NFL games this season, while three more played in the CFL. Former Tiger defensive back Reggie Pleasant was an all-star on Grey Cup Champion Toronto this year, while Perry Tuttle was with Winnipeg and Doug Brewster with Saskatchewan.

Six former Clemson players were considered rookies this year, five played for the Tigers in 1990. Terry Allen was a rookie this year, but sat out the 1990 season due to injury with the Minnesota Vikings. Many of the former Tigers are with successful teams that should be in the playoffs. Thus, the list of 14 former Tigers who own 20 Super Bowl Championship rings could increase this year.

In addition to the players listed below, Vance Hammond and Eric Harmon have been on practice squads with various NFL teams this year, while Stacy Long is on injured reserve with the Chicago Bears.
